

Born in Washington, DC and raised in Alexandria, Virginia, as a little girl, she was destined to be an entrepreneur; when her parents decided to introduce her to her first business...a lemonade stand. At such a delicate age, she found hurdles in her competitor's plan and decided to do something about it, so she sold lemonade, tea, and hot chocolate. Going to school was tough she got bullied a lot for being different and standing out as she quickly got into fashion design makeup and then eventually modeling throughout high school. After graduating with honors an advanced diploma and being a part of the DECA program, her life was beginning to soar. Right out of the gate, she started a fashion/photography business with her partner, being supported by her other passion: bachelor's degree level: early childhood education. Teaching gave her the experience and courage to navigate through personal relationships, time management, and financial literacy. She had to mature quickly. She was accepted into John Casablancas Modeling Academy (the best in the world) and graduated in 2018. Within the same year, she won an International pageant: Miss DC of Miss Jetset competition. Representing her city and country well she began charity work, philanthropy, and continuing to educate, entertain, and enlighten her community. A few years later after opening a few businesses in the modeling and fashion industry, she has recently launched a full a la carte entertainment agency and academy herself. Ultimate Dons and Divas(™) Entertainment in 2022, which manages talent and provides education, courses and gigs for her models, artists, and dancers. Alongside her now husband of 2 years, they have become the unstoppable "Power Couple" in the DMV. They live very happily and comfortably in Tysons Corner with their fur baby Starlet and plan to extend their family soon. They enjoy working hard and working smart and helping those who struggle in the industry to make it and live out their wildest dreams. From New York Fashion Week runway to scoring the front covers of International Magazines and winning "Best Modeling Agency" in 2023 they are a force to be reckoned with.
